

Lami Technical Services

Lamipak is more than just an aseptic packaging manufacturer, but is also a service provider for our customers that can span from printing services, technical services, advanced technical consulting services, marketing services, design services and more. All of these services can be packaged to bring your products to market faster or increase your overall output.

Lami Technical service options:

 Preventive Maintenance (PM)	Service Agreement
 Corrective Maintenance (CM)	Customize Technical Projects
 On Site Training	3L (Lamipak Lean Line)
 Remote support (RS)	Food Safety

Currently, we have a large global presence of professional technical engineers based in Europe, Asia, Oceania, Middle East, Africa and America and as our business grows we will continue increase our headcount. Our engineers have years of experience that can help carry out maintenance and training to highly customized technical services that can increase the productivity of your production line. As one of the few manufacturers in the industry that can provide such service, we are proud of being more flexible and faster than our competitors.